

A subscription to PRS includes twelve print issues per year, full online access to PRSJournals.com including archived issues, and now exclusive access to the iPad App!

I am a subscriber to PRS and I have a username and password that I use to access PRSJournals.com

- On your iPad home screen, open the PRS app from the icon
- You will see the message, "If you have already set up PRS for your iPad, simply tap "Sign In" above to start accessing your issues. Or, set up your account."
- Tap the "Sign In" button at the upper left using your username and password for PRSJournals.com
- Download, View, and Archive issues in your library

I am a member of ASPS and I have my ASPS member ID

- On your iPad home screen, open the PRS app from the icon
- You will see the message, "If you have already set up PRS for your iPad, simply tap "Sign In" above to start accessing your issues. Or, set up your account."
- Tap the "Or, set up your account" link
- On the next screen, choose: "I know my ASPS Member ID"
- When you tap "I know my ASPS Member ID," you will be prompted to enter your email address and ASPS Member ID
- Tap "Accept" on the End User License Agreement
- Once you are successfully registered, you will see a confirmation screen with instructions for starting to access your PRS issues.

I am a subscriber to PRS and I have my subscriber ID (hint: your subscriber ID is found on your print mailing label or the email confirmation you received when you subscribed)

- On your iPad home screen, open the PRS app from the icon
- You will see the message, "If you have already set up PRS for your iPad, simply tap "Sign In" above to start accessing your issues. Or, set up your account."
- Tap the "Or, set up your account" link
- On the next screen, choose: I know my Subscriber ID
- When you tap "I know my Subscriber ID," you will be prompted to enter your email address and subscriber ID
- Tap "Accept" on the End User License Agreement
- Once you are successfully registered, you will see a confirmation screen with instructions for starting to access your PRS issues.

I don't know my subscriber ID and I have not accessed the website PRSJournals.com

- On your iPad home screen, open the PRS app from the icon
- You will see the message, "If you have already set up PRS for your iPad, simply tap "Sign In" above to start accessing your issues. Or, set up your account."
- Tap the "Or, set up your account" link
- On the next screen, choose: I don't know my ID
- When you tap "I don't know my ID," you will be prompted to enter your first and last name. A system lookup will be initiated, and if you are located as a valid member or subscriber, you will be prompted to go to the next step in registration
- Tap "Accept" on the End User License Agreement
- Once you are successfully registered, you will see a confirmation screen with instructions for starting to access your PRS issues

Download PRS for the iPad to join your colleagues who have already chosen PRS as their professional journal of choice.
