

Coming Soon! New Reference Format for all ACSM Journals!

Beginning 1 July 2017, all new manuscript submissions and revised manuscripts are required to have references adhering to the National Library of Medicine (NLM) standard.

What this means for authors:

- If using a reference management program (e.g., EndNote, RefWorks, Mendeley), be sure to select the NLM option.
- The reference list should be in order of citation in text (not alphabetic order).
- In-text citations will still be denoted by a baseline number in parentheses.
