

Call for Applications: JNPT EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The Board of Directors of the Academy of Neurologic Physical Therapy has begun the search for a new Editor-in-Chief (EIC) of the JOURNAL OF NEUROLOGIC PHYSICAL THERAPY (JNPT). The new EIC will be selected in 2019, and shadow the current EIC for one year beginning in January 2020, assuming the role of EIC in January 2021.

JNPT is a Medline-indexed journal that currently ranks #5 in the JCR Impact Factor ranking of Rehabilitation journals. JNPT is a scholarly resource for dissemination of research-based evidence related to neurologic physical therapy intervention. High standards of quality are maintained through a rigorous, double-blinded, peer-review process and adherence to standards recommended by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE).

Applicants should:

- Be a recognized thought leader in neurorehabilitation and/or neuroscience
- Understand the overall impact of a high-quality journal on the advancement of health care and improvement of patient care
- Understand the impact of a high-quality journal on the advancement of rehabilitation and the physical therapy profession—including specific influences on knowledge base, evidence base, education, and clinical practice
- Demonstrate a commitment to furthering all areas of research—clinical, translational, health services, cost-effectiveness, and basic sciences
- Place a high value on engaging an international readership and understand the growing importance of social media in scholarly publishing

Application Process:

Qualified individuals are asked to submit as an application a full curriculum vitae, a cover letter/letter of intent, and a letter from the individual's institution indicating support for the application.
