

Associate Editor

Journal of Women's & Pelvic Health Physical Therapy (JWPHPT) welcomes applications for the position of Associate Editor. Associate Editors play a vital role in the governance and functions of JWPHPT. Responsibilities include participation in the peer review process, editorial board decisions and serve as journal ambassadors.

JWPHPT is dedicated to presenting comprehensive and high-level evidence in support of physical therapists and other healthcare professionals practicing in women's health and pelvic care.

Responsibilities:

Peer Review:

- Invites reviewers appropriate for manuscript content.
- Evaluates reviewer responses.
- Recommends manuscript decisions to the Editor-in-Chief.

Editorial Advisers:

- Participates in editorial board meetings and strategic planning.
- Identifies areas of content growth and acquisition.
- Assists with reviewer training.

Journal Ambassadors:

- Fosters potential authors, readers, reviewers, and subscribers via various means
- Promotes the submission of high-quality manuscripts to JWPHPT.
- Encourages colleagues to read, cite and include JWPHPT in their social media posts.

Qualifications:

The ideal candidate for Associate Editor will be:

- A physical therapist with experience related to women's health physical therapy and pelvic health.
- Academic Doctorate (PhD, EdD, DSc, etc.) with a minimum of 3-5 peer-reviewed scholarly products.
- Prior experience in reviewing manuscripts for peer-reviewed journals.

For consideration, please submit your letter of interest, a current CV including all peer-reviewed publications and other scholarship products, and your contact information to Editor-in-Chief, Cynthia M. Chiarello, PT, PhD at editorjwhpt@aptapelvichealth.org.

JWPHPT endorses the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals put forth by the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE).