What content is Medicine® looking for in the area of oncology?
“The area of Oncology in Medicine® offers continuous publication of original research across a broad spectrum of oncology disciplines and sub-specialties. Article types include Clinical Trial/Experimental Study (CONSORT Compliant), Observational Study (STROBE Compliant), Systematic Review and Meta-Analysis (PRISMA Compliant), Diagnostic Accuracy Study (STARD Compliant), Economic Evaluation Study (CHEERS Compliant), Clinical Case Report (CARE Compliant), and Narrative Review (SANRA).

Topics we are particularly interested in seeing include: the comprehensive treatment strategies of various cancers, especially prostate, breast, ovarian, lung, and liver cancers; the advanced treatment modalities of different cancers, such as immunotherapy; multicenter clinical trials of cancer treatments with traditional chemotherapy and radiotherapy and emerging immunotherapy, and their contrastive studies, and so forth.”

What advice would you give to researchers looking to publish their work in Medicine®?
“The contents of the manuscripts submitted to Medicine® should be scientifically, technically, and ethically sound, and in compliance with standard reporting guidelines. Before submission, please carefully read the terms of “Information for Authors”, “Criteria for Acceptance”, “Pre-Submission Checklist”, and related contents.”
