

Rita Pickler, PhD, RN, FAAN Becomes Editor of *Nursing Research

Wolters Kluwer is pleased to announce that Rita Pickler, PhD, RN, FAAN, has been appointed the Editor in Chief of *Nursing Research. Dr. Pickler is the FloAnn Sours Easton Endowed Professor of Child and Adolescent Health and Director of the PhD and Masters in Nursing Science Programs at the Ohio State University College of Nursing. The January/February 2018 issue of Nursing Research will be the first of her tenure as Editor in Chief.

Dr. Pickler acknowledges the efforts of outgoing Editor in Chief Susan J. Henly, PhD, RN, FAAN, noting her contributions to raising the journal's profile and developing its authors, reviewers, and Editorial Board. Dr. Pickler comments, "Nursing Research has a long history of publishing important papers that have informed practice, improved health, and advanced nursing science. It is an honor to serve as editor of this esteemed journal. I look forward to working with the editorial board, Wolters Kluwer, and our authors and readers as we continue to build on the journal's strong foundation."

Nursing Research is a peer-reviewed journal celebrating over 60 years as the most sought-after nursing resource; it offers more depth, more detail, and more of what today's nurses demand. Nursing Research covers key issues, including health promotion, human responses to illness, acute care nursing research, symptom management, cost-effectiveness, vulnerable populations, health services, and community-based nursing studies. Each issue highlights the latest research techniques, quantitative and qualitative studies, and new state-of-the-art methodological strategies, including information not yet found in textbooks.
