The Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology, a leading publication in psychopharmacology, offers a wide range of articles reporting on clinical trials and studies, side effects, drug interactions, overdose management, pharmacogenetics, pharmacokinetics, and psychiatric effects of non-psychiatric drugs. The journal keeps clinician-scientists and trainees up-to-date on the latest clinical developments in psychopharmacologic agents, presenting the extensive coverage needed to keep up with every development in this fast-growing field.

After 41 years, Richard I. Shader, MD, founding editor of the Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology, will retire effective December 31, 2020. Wolters Kluwer | Lippincott Williams & Wilkins is searching for a leader in clinical psychopharmacology to replace Dr. Shader and drive the mission of Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology in the role of Editor-in-Chief. This position is a part-time, independent-contractor position with an honorarium. The Editor is expected to lead the editorial mission of the journal in a manner that supports the legacy of the journal, and to maintain primary connections to the field through an active clinical and/or academic role. Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology currently publishes 6 issues in each volume.

Responsibilities

- Develop and support the editorial program for The Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology:
  - Provide a strong editorial vision aligned with the goals of the journal to provide essential guidance on relevant clinical studies and new techniques.
  - Solicit, manage, and approve final version of manuscript for each issue.
  - Select and manage high-performing Editorial Board Members who will support the Editor by conducting peer reviews, selecting appropriate peer reviewers, and soliciting or writing articles.
  - Manage the editorial process with the production editor and managing editor, hired by Wolters Kluwer Health.

Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology - 2020 Search Editor-in-Chief
Commit to Publisher deadlines to ensure ongoing manuscript flow and maintain publication schedule.

Be familiar with the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (www.icmje.org) and the Committee on Publication Ethics (http://publicationethics.org).

Champion the journal at professional meetings, workshops, and other appropriate forums.

Have at least one Editorial Board meeting each year.

Work with appropriate organizations to form partnerships that help expand the reach of the journal.

Requirements

The Editor candidate should:

- Be an expert and thought leader in the field of psychopharmacology, with strong clinical experience and/or academic leadership.
- Be highly organized and motivated with the skills, talent, and interest to develop a timely, dynamic publication fostering excellence in the field of psychopharmacology.
- Have publishing experience as an author and editor.
- Be able to devote time to the Editorship.
- Be able to commit to a three year term minimum.
- Have substantial experience as a reviewer and/or editorial board member.

Interested candidates

Please submit a letter of interest with curriculum vitae and editorial vision for the Journal of Clinical Psychopharmacology to the Publisher by December 31, 2019. We will provide access to the journal for a limited time for your review.

---

Marianne Kerr
Group Publisher | Health Learning, Research & Practice
Wolters Kluwer
Two Commerce Square
2001 Market Street
Philadelphia, PA 19103
Office: 215-521-8931
Mobile: 205-335-5955
Marianne.kerr@wolterskluwer.com