

Editor-in-Chief Call: Journal of Thoracic Imaging

The Publisher is currently inviting nominations and applications for the position of Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Thoracic Imaging (JTI).

JTI is a peer-reviewed journal directed to an audience of cardiac and pulmonary imaging radiologists. The journal publishes original articles and analytical reviews by leading experts concerning the use of chest radiography, computed tomography, magnetic resonance imaging, positron emission tomography, ultrasound, interventional procedures, and all other promising techniques in cardiopulmonary radiology.

JTI is published bimonthly and the journal reaches more than 4,000 subscribers worldwide via institutional and direct subscriptions.

Candidates must hold an MD degree or equivalent and should have an ongoing clinical practice and/or academic position. Candidates must be an acknowledged expert in cardiopulmonary imaging, a member of leading professional societies in this subspecialty, and have considerable authoring and editing experience in prominent, peer-reviewed journals. Candidates should have experience as an active member and peer reviewer on Editorial Boards of journals in the field, with a proven track record for excellence and timeliness. Candidates must possess excellent communication, organizational and interpersonal skills, as well as a wide network of professional contacts.

Job Description

- Provide a strong editorial vision representative of the goals of the Journal.
- Together with the Publisher, develop strategies to obtain high-quality content in both print and online formats, as evidenced by metrics such as increased citations, web traffic and readership scores.
- Champion the Journal at professional meetings, workshops and other appropriate forums.
- Select and lead an esteemed international Editorial Board whose knowledge base represents the topics covered in the editorial mission of the Journal.
- Ensure proper and expeditious manuscript flow to guarantee on-time publication, soliciting content and/or editorials as appropriate.
- Select and manage high-performing peer reviewers and Editorial Board members as needed.
- Make final editorial decisions on submitted manuscripts.

We request the Editor-in-Chief to commit to a 3-year term, commencing January 1, 2018. An honorarium will be provided as compensation for the Editor's work on the journal. The initial term will follow a six-month overlap period with the current Editor-in-Chief beginning summer 2017.

Interested individuals should send their curriculum vitae along with a 2- to 3-page vision statement for the journal by Friday, January 27, 2017 to:

Stella Bebos

Associate Publisher, Wolters Kluwer
stella.bebos@wolterskluwer.com